

Do you have a patient with a rare or complex urogenital disease and want advice from experts throughout Europe? Then try the ...

Clinical Patient Management System

CPMS is a digital tool for e-consultations, connecting experts on rare diseases from all over Europe

Our multidisciplinary teams of experts are able to diagnose, suggest treatment or surgery, and then provide post-operative and transitional support. To do this, we use a secure web-based tool known as the Clinical Patient Management System (CPMS), co-financed by the Connecting Europe Facility of the European Union.

The system supports European Reference Networks (ERNs) in the diagnosis and treatment of rare or low prevalence complex diseases or conditions across national borders. Healthcare professionals can use CPMS to collaborate actively and share patient cases both within and across ERNs.
